Since becoming mayor in January, I am continually asked what is such and such....

Take a look at this picture from Reagan Parkway on the South side of the street, close to the Jefferson Street intersection. Residents keep asking me what this is. The answer is that it is a small cell tower. It is owned by Verizon and is located in the utility right-of-way. There are a few of these small cell towers around town, but this one is the most obvious because it is at ground level and located close to the sidewalk. The City asked Verizon to add streetlights to it. It is not taking pictures or collecting any data, it is simply there to boost your cell reception.
