National Crime Victim's Rights Week

Hope & Healing Survivor Resource Center reminds everyone that their team responds to requests for help from Summit and Medina Counties, providing crisis interventions, advocacy, counseling, and safe shelter to survivors of domestic violence, sexual violence, and human trafficking. Each call, each conversation, and each service represents a person choosing support and a community responding with care. You can now reach out on the 24/7 crisis hotline, 330-374-1111, to connect with an advocate. This added option creates a more accessible, private, and flexible way to seek help, meeting survivors where they are and honoring their individual needs. Confidential, compassionate support remains available at any time, because no one should have to navigate this alone.
